

2025 Symposium

Living with Hope: Managing the Challenges of ALS

Monday, March 10, 2025 | 9:00am to 3:30pm
OhioHealth Blom Administrative Campus
3430 OhioHealth Parkway, Columbus, OH 43202
FREE - Please RSVP to Lisa at 614.273.2572 x106, lstevens@alsohio.org for live or virtual attendance.

Please join us for this informative day bringing together a forum of Ohio experts to address innovative approaches in the symptom management of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS) and the leading-edge research happening in your own backyard.

You'll have the opportunity to talk directly with the speakers, visit with vendors to learn about the latest products, and stay up-to-date with ALS United Ohio's free services. Don't miss it!

Speakers

John Novak, MD, Director of the ALS Multidisciplinary Clinic at OhioHealth (Columbus)

Rob Neel, MD, Director of the ALS Multidisciplinary Clinic at University of Cincinnati (Cincinnati)

Stephen Kolb, MD, Ph.D., Director of the ALS Multidisciplinary Clinic at The Ohio State University (Columbus)

Adam Deardorff, MD, Ph.D., Director of the ALS Multidisciplinary Clinic at Premier Health (Dayton)

Sherif Elbasiouny, Ph.D., P.E., Director of Neuroengineering & Research at Wright State University (Dayton)

Symposium Agenda

9:00am - Registration Opens
Breakfast, vendor tables

10:00am - Symposium Begins
Diagnosis, Available Medications, and the Role of Palliative Care
Dr. John Novak, OhioHealth

Break

ALS Multidisciplinary Clinics, PEG Nutrition, and BiPAP Breathing
Dr. Rob Neel, University of Cincinnati

Lunch and Time with Vendors

Patient Panel
Speakers coming soon

Break

Research Panel
Dr. Kolb, The Ohio State University
Dr. Deardorff, Premier Health
Dr. Elbasiouny, Wright State University

3:00pm - Closing Remarks
Marlin K. Seymour, President & CEO of ALS United Ohio